

HANDLE WITH CARE were the instructions for movements of this car marked with the pointing arrow. The reason for such instruction, it was learned, was that the car carried 1,049 cases of TNT, which was enough to have removed Frankfort and its people from the map had it been jolted off. Donald Kohl Of Tinley Park Is Grand Champion Plowman

Grand Champion of the 1967 South Cook 4-H Plowing Contest was Donald Kohl, Tinley Park, member of the Orland Boys Club. The following participants in order after the Grand Champion were: Larry Bernard and Douglas Erickson, Mokena; Jeffery Andresen and Robert Cooper, Orland Park; Jerry McCarthy, Bobbe Bettenhausen, Michael Boza, and Tom Lauffer, Tinley Park. The results were announced by Henry Andresen, Orland Park, Plowing Contest Committee Chairman.

Rules for scoring and judging the 4-H Plowing Contest include (1) Furrow conformation and uniformity (2) Trash coverage (3) Land ends (4) Furrow straightness (5) Safety (6) Familiarity with adjustments (7) Finishing in allotted time.

Douglas Erickson, Mokena, of the Orland Boys Club was Grand Champion of the Tractor Operator Contest, followed closely by Robert Cooper, Orland Park.

Tractor operators are required to maneuver the tractor swiftly through three predesigned courses, and to back a four-wheeled wagon out of one shed and into another shed within six minutes.

Safety is stressed and contestants must operate their tractors in a safe manner and at safe speeds at all times. For example: there will be no standing while tractor is in operation, and the contestant must remain at the controls at all times while the tractor is in operation. At the discretion of the judges, unsafe operation may disqualify a contestant, according to W. F. Whiteside, farm advisor.

Homer Lapp and Har Clow, Plainfield, both active in the Wheatland Plow Contest, acted as judges the Saturday contest.

AIRMAN Dale W. Westlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westlund, 10838 Front St., Mokena, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., as a US Air Force supply specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Amarillo, Tex. He is a 1965 graduate of Lincoln-Way High School, and attended Joliet Junior College.

REV. NATHAN J. STONE, instructor in Jewish missions at Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will speak at the Park View Baptist Church, LaPorte Rd. and Scott St., Mokena, at the 11:00 a.m. worship service on Sunday, Aug. 20.

At the 7:00 p.m. Evening Service, Harvey Russell, youth worker and director of the Christian Youth Center of Joliet, will speak, and special music will be presented.

Fate Of Fluoridation Bill Still Unknown

Is it or isn't it?

The measure passed by the last session of the Illinois legislature calling on all municipalities who supply their people with water to fluoridate same is what the first sentence refers to. But is it a law? Has the governor signed it?

Until the governor signs it, it is not a law and the question of to fluoridate or not to fluoridate will continue to occupy village and city councils, for a part of their time at least. If the governor vetoes the bill then the village and city councils are back where they started from -- in the middle of a controversy between the fluoridators and the non-fluoridators.

At Monday night's meeting of the Orland Park Village Board Village Attorney Raymond Pieper said he guessed the governor would be signing bills for another month. If he has signed the fluoridation bill no one has reported the fact, or if he hasn't.

Dental and medical groups have been advocating the addition of fluorine to municipal water supplies. Too much, it is claimed will pit teeth, too little makes no difference but if just the right amount is present the stuff is supposed to prevent cavities and make teeth and bones stronger.

Special Hours At Will County Treas. Office

County Treasurer Clarence Lipman (R), announced special public hours for the Treasurer's office.

"My department will be open Friday, Aug. 25 until 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 26 from 9 a.m. to 12:00 noon. These special hours during the last week-end in August are to accommodate the public in paying the second installment of their real estate and personal property taxes before the Sept. 1 deadline," he explained.

Taxes paid after Sept. 1 carry a penalty. Lipman requested taxpayers during the special hours to use the Jefferson St. entrance to the county building. The treasurer's office is on the first floor at the east end (left of the elevator) of the building.

Blame Vandalism For Frankfort Rail Wreck

The freight wreck on the New York Central just east of Wjite St., in Frankfort was attributed to vandalism by investigators for the railroad. A switch was opened about an inch, it was found. This was not enough to change the signal but was enough to derail the locomotive and a couple of cars. No one was reported injured.

Fortunately for the people of Frankfort the third car behind the engine remained intact and on the rails. It was loaded with 1,049 cases of TNT, and there was a sign on the door to handle it with care.

The tape in the locomotive showed the train was traveling 30 miles an hour when the engine went off the tracks, dragging a couple of box cars with it. The train was traveling west out of Chicago to Joliet.

Three hundred feet of rails and ties were torn up on the mainline and 100 feet of track and ties were ripped up on the spur that serves the Frankfort Grain Co.

Authorities are seeking the person or persons who opened the switch, pointing out that this was out of the prank category. Had the carload of TNT exploded, it was pointed out there would have been great loss of life as well as tremendous property damage.

The wreck occurred at 4:50 o'clock.

The New York Central line between Joliet and Chicago sees little use anymore, only two trains a day making use of same.

Service was restored the following day. The diesel locomotive was badly damaged, it was reported.

IT TOOK a strong push to dislodge this stone in the cemetery at Frankfort because the round of granite marking the spot where someone's mother was buried is quite heavy. It is reported that revelers hold parties in the cemetery on many week-ends, leaving broken bottles and empty beer cans. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

It's Pruning Time For That Shrubbery

Pruning forces a shrub to make new growth which increases the number of blooms the following year says James E. Schuster, University of Illinois Extension Service.

Shrubs that you should prune now are flowering quinces, dogwoods, currants, honeysuckles, viburnums, weigelas, and spireas that have finished flowering. Thin them out by removing all wood that is weak or three or more years old. Cut to the ground every two or three years all dogwoods grown for their colored stems. Honeysuckle should be cut to the ground every five or six years.

Aronia (chokeberry) are pruned after their berries fall. The hydrangeas and all spirea still in flower are pruned after they finish flowering.

Cut off the seed heads on all peonies and iris. However, do not cut the foliage back. These plants will be more vigorous the following year if the foliage is not removed, says Schuster.

Pupils living more than a mile and a half from the school are transported at the expense of the district. Accident insurance, which is optional, is $2.50.

Pupils in grades one thru eight must pay a book rental fee of $10 (no fee no books),

State law requires the medical and dental exams.

Fees should be paid by check or money order, school officials said, made payable to Orland School District No. 135.

Rat Problem Bobs Up In Orland Park

The Village of Orland Park has declared war on rats. Trustee Joseph Henely, health committee chairman, was to purchase a type poison favored by exterminators for distribution about the area. While lethal to rats it will not act on children or pets, Henely said.

Trustee Henry Moorehouse brought the subject up. He said that his dog had killed a rat in his yard and it was the first time he had seen one on his premises. Since then, he said, he has received several calls from area residents complaining of rats.

Rats, according to persons who have made a study of the pests, are intelligent creatures and are wary of taking any poisoned bait as long as there is garbage, grain or other food available.

City rats, it was pointed out, live on garbage. Country rats -- and those in Orland Park would fall in that category -- not only feed on garbage but on the grains they find on surrounding farms.

One of the first rules in fighting rats is to clear away all old lumber and rubbish piles where they can hide and make their burrows and to keep garbage in tightly covered metal containers.

Rats are cannibals, it was said, and if deprived of other sources of food will finally eat each other.

The rat population runs into the upper millions and the damage they do each year runs into the high millions in dollars, it was brought out.

Persons who put garbage in cardboard, wooden or uncovered containers are inviting rats, it was stressed.

Blind To Benefit From Picnic

A reminder by the Lions Club, that, altho tickets are going fast, there's still time to get them for the second Old Fash'n Picnic to be held on Aug. 20, Sunday, at J & J's Picnic Grove, 1 1/4 miles west of Wolf Road on 159th Street. They are available at some business places or thru members.

Tickets for adults are $3.50; $2.25 for teens and $1.50 for children between 5 and 12 years old.

Five of a Kind, who will be providing the music for dancing are well-known to teen-agers and of course there will be lots of food, games and prizes.

The Lions Club is a service organization devoted to philanthropic activities and is particularly interested in providing service and aid to the blind. This annual picnic is one of the main fund-raising activities of the Orland Lions Club and each member is working hard to make it a successful project.

Orland Grade Board Reports Need For Building Program

A three-year delay in building plans for the junior high school now under construction at Orland Park has spurred the board of education to action in plans for an addition to Orland Center School.

Last winter Sup. Norbert Jerling reported to the board that the enrollment was still increasing and recommended that planning be started on a building program.

C. Russell Cox, head of the board's finance committee volunteered to compile an independent study. This report was completed this summer. The use of computer compilations, verified and clarified future enrollment growth in the district, it was said.

The report concluded with a strong recommendation that the board proceed immediately with planning and building an addition to the Orland Center building. The report spans a five year period.

Since the grade school district lacks bonding power to finance the desired improvements the board is to apply to the Illinois School Building Commission. Under this plan a district must exhaust what bonding power it may have thru a referendum and at the same time get public approval of a proposal to pay for the building like rent. Most of the building program of the Orland school district in recent years has been financed thru the state building commission. Under this plan a district saves interest charges pays so much a month for approximately 16 years, at which time it will own the building.

The board started work on the proposal for the junior high school project in 1964. A bond issue was beaten in a referendum in October of that year.

Later there were some technicalities that delayed the project still further under the Illinois Building Commission program and then the bids were rejected because they were too high. There was a revision of plans and finally the work got underway last spring. The board hopes to avoid any repetition of this deal.

The proposed addition to Orland Center School will include an area of safety against possible disasters, it was explained by school officials.

Offers $1,000 For Identity Of Vandals

A $1,000 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who shot two prize bulls on the Willow Lane Farm, 13400 Parker Rd. in Homer Township.

The reward is offered by Sherman Swanson, owner. Willow Lane Farm specializes in the raising of purebred Shorthorns, one of the beef breeds.

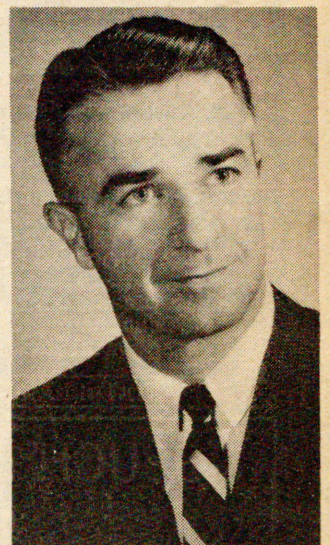

Approximately six weeks ago two young bulls were shot, one of them fatally.

Plan Antenna To Serve UHF TV Station

(CNS) The Cook County Board has sent to the Zoning Board of Appeals for consideration and decision a proposal that would change the zoning on 27 1/2 acres on the north side of 167th St., 660 feet west of 104th Av. in Orland Township, to allow the construction of an antenna to serve a UHF (Ultra High Frequency) Television Station.

AIRMAN RAYMOND P. Wirth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Haynes Jr., 14607 Poplar Ct., Orland Park, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, as a US Air Force missile facilities specialist.

WILLIAM CHAPMAN, a native of Milwaukee, Wis., will be the new director of the Chancel Choir of the Methodist Church in Orland Park.

They will reside at 12310 S. 76th Ave., Palos Heights

Annual Outing Will Include Ballgame

JAMES PEYTON

The Tinley Gardens Homeowners Assoc. will sponsor its second annual outing on the Community Playground Saturday, Aug. 19. The affair will begin with a father and sons baseball game starting at 3:00 p.m. and will be followed with a weiner roast. All residents of the community are invited whether or not you belong to the Homeowners Assoc. Let's all come out and help make this an occasion that will long be remembered.

Last week I stated that our baseball team had played its last game of the season however I managed to get one more game with the Arbury Hills "A" team and the results were real good for all concerned. We played to an 8 to 8 tie as darkness came and so once again I can't say we won but I don't have to say we lost. Both teams played exceptionally well and we have finally proven that our boys can play ball. Under the guidance of manager Leonard Bushen our team has progressed beyond our wildest dreams and I personally wish to thank the Arbury Hills team for supplying the competition necessary for use to show our ability playing baseball.

To all board members of the Tinley Gardens Homeowners Assoc. don't forget the meeting at my house on August 21 at 8:00 p.m.

Once again I advise all dog owners to please cooperate as the dog ordinance is being enforced by the Will County Sheriff's Police. Any dogs found running loose will be picked up and the maximum fine imposed on the owners. All habitual violators have been notified by the Sheriff and I think we can expect co-operation from them in the future.

To all members of the community: I would appreciate some help with this newspaper story for awhile as I have my hand in a splint and by next week it will probably be in a cast. Anyone that would like to help please call and your help will be greatly appreciated. This is also the reason for the short story this week and you can take it from me that it is almost impossible to type with a splint on your thumb.

the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

Bernard Baruch was asked who he thought was the greatest man of his age. He replied: "The fellow who does his job every day. The mother who runs a home and gets the meals. The fellow who keeps the streets clean. Millions of men."

In the common things of life lies the strength of the nation. Not in brilliant conceptions and strokes of genius shall we find the chief reliance of our country, but in the home, in the schools, and in religion.

Respectfully,

Temme-Bettenhausen Vows Recited July 8

Wedding promises were recited by Marla Lynn Temme and David Lloyd Bettenhausen, at 2 p.m., July 8, in St. Peter's United Church of Christ, Grant Park, Ill.

Rev. Wallace Relfstreck, Grant Park, and Rev. La-

Vern Smith of Frankfort, performed the rites uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Temme, Grant Park, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bettenhausen of Peotone.

Approaching the white gladioli and pink mum festooned altar, the bride wore a floor touching gown of silk organza with scooped neckline edged in Alencon lace frosted in seed pearls and sequins, elbow-length sleeves and chapel train offset by identical lace appliques. Her veil of English Illusion was caught to silk organza bows and petals edged in pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible trimmed in brocade.

Mrs. Lou Ann Jurrres, sister of the bride, Peotone, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-touching A-line gown of Nassau pink organza with fitted bodice of white lace, elbow length sleeves trimmed with ruffles and a panel train. Her matching circular veil was caught to organza bows and loops, and she carried a white lace fan with pink carnations and white pompoms. Gowned identically in candy pink were the bridesmaids, Miss Deborah Marshall, and Miss Sandra Meyer, both of Grant Park, and Miss Anita Longhorst, cousin of the bride of Peotone.

Gail Jurrres, niece of the bride, of Peotone, was flower girl.

Dale Bettenhausen of Manhattan attended his cousin as best man. Ushers were Robert Jurrres of Peotone, Richard Toepper of Manhattan, Jerry Englehart of Peotone, Kurt Bettenhausen of Joliet and Karl Warning of New Lenox. Gary Jurrres, nephew of the bride was ringbearer.

A dinner and reception followed at the Will County Atrium, Peotone, with dancing and music by the Bill Carnegie orchestra.

The bride's mother wore a mint green lace costume with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore an identical corsage with her light blue cage dress of ribbon lace, blue accessories.

Following a wedding trip to the western states, the newlyweds are residing at Rt. 1, Peotone.

Hay Fever? Then Go Where Pollen Ain't

Pollen - counting time is upon the country again.

As the count rises by mid-August hay fever sufferers flee the cities and valleys seeking comfort and relief in the mountain and seashore regions of the nation. These areas are relatively free of the culprit, the ragweed plant.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA, which gets many requests for locations affording relief, advises hay fever sufferers that the region west of the Cascade Mountains of Oregon and Washington is considered to have the lightest incidence or ragweed pollen in the nation. Alaska also is almost completely free of the sneeze provoker.

The CMC-AAA says that a good degree of relief can be obtained, too, in the wooded areas of extreme northern Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Maine, as well as in the central Adirondacks and in the extreme southern tip of Florida.

In the Rocky Mountain states, ragweeds always are present in farming areas, but are largely absent in desert and forested regions.

The season of ragweed pollen distribution in most areas is confined most to August and September, but along the Gulf coast, the weeds are still active. Southeastern California and Arizona have an early ragweed season, March thru May.

In cultivated areas of Central Florida the season begins in June and lasts until November. The season is long also in the Brownsville section of Texas.

Altho as a general rule high altitude, wooded and seashore areas offer the best relief, sometimes local patches of ragweed exist

Elmhurst Reflects Du Page Growth

The Elmhurst College Evening Session, keeping pace with the growth of the DuPage County area, has shown an increase from 14 students in 1951 to 1339 last year.

The program, an integral part of the total program of the college, strives to stimulate students to the achievement of comprehensive scholarship through a liberal arts curriculum by offering college - level courses to interested and qualified persons.

A major advancement in the school's program is the new science center which was completed last fall. The $2 million structure serves the departments of biology, chemistry, physics, geography and mathematics. The three - level building includes a greenhouse, heating plant, central refrigeration unit, and air - conditioning throughout.

It contains 29 laboratories, 13 classrooms, 18 offices, conference and seminar rooms, storage and seminar research facilities. A service elevator, receiving dock and television transmitting facilities throughout all physics laboratories are other major features.

It also includes a 300-seat theater - auditorium, incandescently lighted and acoustically designed so that a stage whisper can be heard in the upper reaches of the balcony. Laboratory experiments elsewhere in the building can be transmitted for large screen viewing in the auditorium, which also includes a projection booth.

The evening session, which is fully accredited, is also a member in good standing of the Association of University Evening Colleges, an organization that seeks to focus public attention on, and encourages acceptance and understanding of, the aims of collegiate evening education.

The primary concern of the association is with the collegiate education of adults as a basic function and responsibility of colleges and universities.

Marycrest Has Step-up Plan

Marycrest College provides a college-level program of instruction of shorter duration than the usual four-year college programs. Its program qualifies students for employment at a professional level in office occupations.

Courses offered are: Accounting; Business Administration; Gregg, Speedwriting and Machine shorthand; Secretarial work; General Business; Dictaphone and Stenorette instruction; Comptometer and Calculator instruction; and IBM Key punch.

Instructors at the college are well-trained in their respective fields. They have both the practical and the academic backgrounds which enable them to do intensive and effective teaching, guiding students in their preparation for careers in business. The school is approved by the Private Business Schools state board and the State Approval Agency for Veteran's Benefits.

Students may be approved for training under the Manpower Development Training Act, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Scholarships have been made available by the services of Kiwanis, Zonta, National Secretaries Associations of Pontiac and Kankakee.

Students have been placed in top positions upon graduation from Marycrest College with the following employers: Northern Illinois Gas Co., Argonne Laboratories, Uniroyal, U.S. Steel, Bill Jacobs Chevrolet, A.P.S.A., Inc.; Caterpillar, Inc., Joliet Federal Savings & Loan, Illinois Public Aid and many other local businesses and industries.

Free lifetime placement service is available to all graduates.

Northwestern Offers Counselling Service

A big feature in Northwestern University's Chicago campus is its free counselling service. Counselling sessions are centered on student aims and interests.

The university is especially interested in giving students adequate background before launching upon courses and eventual careers. Even if the student is interested in attending a junior college, he can get counselling and guidance at Northwestern. The service is free.

George Williams College serves not only young people working toward their degrees, but also caters to adults who are continuing their education either for a graduate degree, professional advancement, or personal enrichment.

The adult education program takes several forms; the best known is the Morning College for Women. These specially - designed non - credit courses are offered during the morning and afternoon. Classes are in seminar form and no examinations are given. Courses offered in the past include Existentialism in Modern Literature, The Crisis in Southeast Asia Today, The Contemporary Theatre, Psychology of the Emotions, Modern Dance Exercises and Techniques, and Job Opportunities in Education for Women College Graduates. Lewis Set For Largest Enrollment Ever

Over 1600 students from twenty different states and four foreign countries, including Turkey, Japan, India and Korea, will begin study when classes commence on Sept. 14th on the campus of Lewis College.

Brother James Cantwell, FSC, Director of Admissions at the College, reports approximately 650 students will enter Lewis for the first time. Approximately 400 of these students will be entering as freshmen and another 250 as transfer students.

Registration for the fall term will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 12th at 8:45 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. in the Academic Building at the College.

Co-educational evening division will also begin classes on Monday, Sept. 14th, with a variety of courses being offered. Professor Roger Ashamy has been named Counselor for degree candidates attending the evening program. Registration for the evening division will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 6th from 6:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the Academic Building.

This year Lewis will initiate a special Honors program, designed for outstanding students, according to Joseph M. McFadden assistant Dean of the College. Establishment of this program is a recognition on the part of the College that it must provide a challenging curriculum for its more talented students. A college-wide honors program enables Lewis College to encourage its better students to excellence in intellectual pursuits. It also provides a stimulant for students and faculty to interchange ideas and experiences.

Lewis will be continuing its cooperative programs with the College of St. Francis in Joliet and Maryknoll College in Glen Ellyn. The program with St. Francis includes cooperative programs in course work, with each college honoring the others degree programs. It also involves a cooperative exchange of faculty, library facilities and student activities.

The program with Maryknoll is one which merely provides an exchange of student and faculty between the two schools.

To handle the growing number of students attending Lewis, the college has undertaken an accelerated expansion program, that has seen the completion of ten major buildings in the past seven years. At the present time, construction is also being completed on a new residence hall and a dining room addition to the present cafeteria. Construction will begin this fall on a three million dollar learning resources center and an additional wing to the newest dorm - complex.

Two new programs will be started in the Athletic department this year, according to Gordon Gillespie, director, inter collegiate competition in soccer and cross - country will take place for the first time in the history of Lewis.

Thomas Kennedy, newest member of the Athletic Department will be coaching the soccer team, which will hold its first match on Oct. 7th against Judson College in Elgin. Mick Bonacci who also serves as track coach for the college, will coach the cross-country team.

Lewis College and the College of St. Francis are presently engaged in a study, investigating the feasibility of a merger of the two schools. By the end of this year the study should be completed and shortly thereafter, a decision should be reached, which will ultimately affect the direction and growth of Lewis College.

OLD MAIN BUILDING of North Central college in Naperville makes an impressive sight at night.

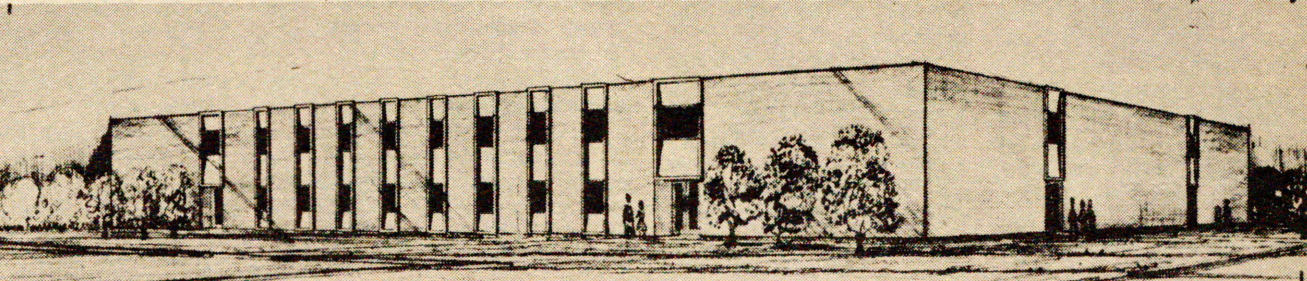

St. Procopius Builds New Science Hall

In order to continue in its eighty year tradition of great teaching, St. Procopius College in nearby Lisle, Illinois, will begin construction of a two-story Science Learning Center at the end of August.

Fifty per cent of the students are majoring in the sciences and St. Procopius graduates are entering the nation's most prestigious graduate and medical schools. Each year the statistics become more impressive and the college's science heritage is further enriched.

The new building will be of light-weight steel construction with brick facing. It will be two stories high and will contain approximately 64,000 square feet of floor space. Air-conditioning will assure optimum use throughout the year.

In designing the building, emphasis has been placed on functional utility with both present and future needs in view. Most interior spaces will have exposed construction and utilities with only offices and some lecture rooms having floor and ceiling coverings. Even the main "luxury" feature -- an interior court -- is basically utilitarian in that it will provide light and air and give a feeling of openness to interior spaces.

Estimated cost of the Science Learning Center is $1,500,000. The college has received a construction grant of $500,000 from the federal government under terms of the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963. Additionally, the college has committed itself to a 30-year loan of $625,000 under the same Act. However, a minimum of $375,000 in additional funds still are needed to meet basic construction costs.

Plans also are being finalized for the building of a new residence hall to accommodate additional resident students.

St. Procopius College, now in its eighty-first year, is a four year fully accredited liberal arts college conducted by the Benedictine Fathers offering the bachelor or arts degree in English, history, music education, philosophy, economics, political science and sociology; the bachelor of science degree in biochemistry, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics.

Educational Cooperative Places School Teachers

About 20 teachers have been placed in South Cook County elementary and secondary school districts during the past two weeks through the service "Operation Talent Search" carried on by the South Cook County Educational Development Cooperative and its member districts.

While the number placed is not large in relation to the total of nearly 250 teachers currently needed to fill the existing staff vacancies of the various districts, it does represent a measure of success for the on-going project in helping to meet the demands of the local area.

With the cooperation of member superintendents and other personnel, staff member Mrs. Margene Entner is carrying on the project by receiving the names of potential teachers both from external and internal sources.

Based on information received from the individual districts who have made their specific needs known to Mrs. Entner, prospective teacher candidates are being referred to the districts requiring their specific talents, subject matter and grade level preferences.

The project, initiated last fall by the personnel committee is an attempt to bring local teaching talent into direct contact with the districts needing their services.

It is designed to appeal to teachers who may be new in the area, those wishing to teach locally, those currently completing their training, or those who wish to return to the profession after an absence. It also serves as an avenue by which school administrators having an excess of promising candidates may make referrals to member districts thus benefiting not only the candidate by the region as well.

Any person holding a bachelor degree is qualified to teach in the public schools in Illinois on a substitute basis and most district administrators are willing to aid a candidate in investigating the possibility of obtaining certification to more fully qualify them.

Qualified candidates are urged to contact Mrs. Margene Entner at SCCEDC, 18216 Harwood Ave., Homewood, Ill., 60430, or call 799-7900. They may file an application and then be apprised of openings in the member districts. In turn, the information contained in their application is forwarded to the superintendents of the local districts.

SCCEDC is beginning its second year of operation as an agency attempting to provide a variety of services to its member districts. It is operated by means of a federal grant and local contributions. It is governed by an executive board consisting of 11 member superintendents and a senate consisting of the entire membership across the 63-district South Cook area.

Currently serving as president and president-elect of the governing bodies are John M. Flynn, superintendent of Bremen Community High School District 228, and S.P. Monteith, superintendent of Steger Elementary District 194. L. Marvin Olmsjed is executive director.

By mutual agreement, membership in the Cooperative has recently been extended to include Lincoln-Way High School District 210 and Manhattan Elementary District 114 in Will County. In keeping with this action, it is currently being proposed that the name of the organization be changed to Educational Development Cooperative (of South Cook and North Will Counties) to more accurately reflect its membership.

TO CHUCK

"That man is a success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much, who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children, who has filled his niche and accomplished his task, who leaves the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul, who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it, who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had."

What's the catch?
There isn't any.
$1639 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW Sedan.
The price includes federal excise tax and import duty.
It includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers and dual padded sun visors.
It's the price of the real thing; not a stripped-down economy model.
What else do you have to pay?
The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge.
And local sales tax.
There is one optional that makes a lot of sense:
the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra.
Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers. And that's it.
(Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.)

Now at our new location . . .
